Our Commitment

Hackle Security Services Ltd is fundamentally committed to ensuring that there is no slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. As a professional services supplier, we work to provide our clients with the highest levels of service attainable. We hold ourselves to the utmost standards of professional conduct and accept nothing less from our suppliers.

Our Approach

Hackle Security Services Ltd are committed to taking all appropriate steps to ensure that slavery or human trafficking is not taking place in our supply chains. As a Security Services provider, we recognise that there is a risk (albeit a very low risk) of slavery or human trafficking occurring in our supply chain. Hackle Security Services Ltd will only work with suppliers who share our commitments.

We have raised awareness of modern slavery within our business and in particular with those who are involved directly with the sourcing of people, goods and services. We have updated our procurement policies and the procedures to reflect the requirements of the ACT and our commitment to preventing modern slavery and human trafficking from occurring or affecting our supply chains or business. These requirements have been incorporated into our selection, due diligence and tender processes.

To ensure all those in our supply chain comply with our values, we carry out a clear vetting process and monitor our suppliers through regular review. When entering into a new contract, we include contractual provisions for ensuring compliance with the Act.
